PR-Agent (MIT, from The-PR-Agent) is a community-maintained open-source code review agent (Qodo donated it): it summarizes changes, reviews them, suggests fixes and answers questions about a pull request. It runs as a GitHub Action, a CLI or a webhook, on GitHub, GitLab, Bitbucket, Azure DevOps and Gitea.

How it works in six steps

1. A PR opens or changes — GitHub Action or CLI
2. Fetch the PR diff — compressed if large
3. Build a prompt from config — configuration.toml file
4. One model call — OpenAI, Claude, Gemini...
5. Post the result — a comment on the PR
6. A person decides — the AI only suggests

Quick start

Install the CLI
pip install "pr-agent[github]"

Set the model key
export OPENAI_KEY=your_key_here

Run a review
pr-agent \
--pr_url https://github.com/owner/repo/pull/123 \
review

Type a command on a PR
/describe /review /improve /ask "..."

Needs: Python (pip) or GitHub Actions/Docker, and an API key for your model provider

Key commands / features

- `/describe` — summarize the change
- `/review` — review the pull request
- `/improve` — suggest code fixes
- `/ask "..."` — free-form question about the PR
- `/similar_issue` — find similar issues

Growth

Two real points: the start of the window and today, axis from zero. The gain is as reported by GitHub Trending; we did not rebuild the star history.

Why this repo exists

- Reviewers are few, pull requests are long, and descriptions are often sloppy.
- One short command returns a result in about 30 seconds right on the PR, so reviewers can focus on what matters.

What to use it for

- Summarize a pull request for the reviewer
- Get fix suggestions right on the PR
- Ask a quick question about a change
- Customize prompts through a config file

Think twice before you use it

- The diff goes to the model provider you choose: read their data policy.
- The README says /help_docs is temporarily disabled over a credential-exposure bug.
- This is a community project, not the Qodo product.
- AI can be wrong: a person still reviews.
